

Thoughts to ponder before working with a Professional Organizer

How do you want to feel when you are done working with The Proper Place?

How will you feel if you don't get things organized/back in functional order?

What is the main goal you hope to accomplish by working with The Proper Place?

What is currently working in the space?

What is not working in the space?

What do you think is causing the disorganization?

What thing/area is your top priority for getting put back into order?
